

LINUX KONFERENCA – LINUX CONFERENCE IS BACK – CALL FOR PAPERS

At the right time, when economy is thinking how to make more with less company ISG have started with organisation of Business Linux Conference, where we will present different solutions which help to better »business« through the time of economic crisis.

Linux Conference 2009

28. and 29. September 2009

Congress Center Hotel Metropol, Portorož, Slovenia

Implementations of Linux and Open Source presents opportunity for Slovene and European companies, that money, which would be payed for licences of american companies stays inside Union and can be used for adaptations and implementations of Open Source software into complete software and informational systems – in this recession time is it important that this implementation are fairly cheaper than purchase of proprietary software.

With your help we are organising conference where we will present new business technologies and implementations on OSS through showcases. Program will sustained from two sections. In first we will present more business oriented thematics and on second more technical issues. We would like to welcome all professionals who would like to present their showcases of Linux and OSS solutions, which are recently more often choise of big and also small companies. On anual event about usage of OSS and Linux you would have a chance of better image of your company and development of OSS in general. Kindly invited to prepare and submit your presentations!
